TETANUS CLAIMED HEINZ' LIFE TODAY

WOUND INFLICTED BY A NAIL A WEEK AGO PROVED FATAL.

LOOKJAW DEVELOPED FRIDAY

Suffering Man Was Taken to Hospital—Died This Morning.

Charles J. Heinz, 202 Cropsey avenue, died at the Katherine Shaw Be-thea hospital at about 9:30 o'clock this morning, death resulting from tetanus, or lockjaw, which followed blood poison which developed from a wound in his foot.

The death of this young man from tetanus is one of the few from this cause in the medical history of the city, and caused considerable comment and sympathy for the bereaved relatives. While cladding down the river a week ago the unfortunate man stepped on a nail, which penetrated the foot quite deeply. The wound became infected and although everything possible was done by the attending physician, tetanus developed.

Mr. Heinz was taken to the hospital yesterday and all that the local medical profession could possibly do was done for him, but he gradually grew worse and died this morning after great suffering.

Funeral Monday.

The remains of the unfortunate man will be taken to Peru at 8:18 o'clock Monday morning, where the funeral services and interment will take place. The deceased was born in Franklin Grove in 1876 and was married to Mrs. Grace Miller on May 4, 1912. He is survived by the widow and five step-children: Ethel, Lo-letta, Manueta, Daisy and Hazel.

SMALL ARMY OF N. W. SECTION MEN

TWO THOUSAND LABORERS ARE DOING CONSTRUCTION WORK.

Under the direction of Roadmaster Leo H. Ryan a mighty army of men are at work on the construction work of the Chicago & Northwestern.
The daily pay roll is between $300 and $400, yet so tremendous is the task assigned to them that unless the roadmaster can get at least five hundred more men, it will hurry him to complete the work laid out this season. Mr. Ryan is advertising for men in all parts of the country, but, despite the big wages offered for the laborers, it is very difficult to secure them.

Cosmopolitan Crowd.

The men are scattered over the forty sections of the division raising the tracks and putting in the rock ballast, which is being shipped by the train load. Half of the nationalities of the world are represented.
There is one gang of Mexicans, several of Slavs, Hungarians, Italians and Greeks, a number of Bulgarians, numerous negroes while, to a large extent, the bosses are Irish or German.

Other nationalities are represented in small numbers.

Must Have Interpreters.

Each of these gangs must have an interpreter and it is the difficult task of the roadmaster to keep the interpreters satisfied. Let one of the interpreters become dissatisfied and his entire gang is dissatisfied.

GOVERNOR GENERAL SEVERES PROVINCE

Hong Kong, July 19.—Special to Telegraph—The severing of the province of Kwangtung was proclaimed by the Governor General today. The capital of the province is Canton.
President Yuan is called a despot.

GRANT'S SON MARRIES.

San Diego, Cal., July 19.—Special to Telegraph—Ulysses S. Grant, son of former President Grant, was wedded today to Mrs. America W. Will at U. S. Grant Hotel. The couple immediately started on a trip around the world.

SUPERVISOR NOW TOWN TREASURER

TICE LAW MAKES HIM CUSTO-DIAN OF THE TOWNSHIP ROAD FUNDS.

The Tice law pertaining to highways, provides that the new highway supervisor shall be ex-officio treasurer of the road and bridge fund. The supervisor will receive 2 per cent of the first $200 expended, and 1 per cent of all moneys expended thereafter. Under the old law each board of highway commissioners elected one of their number to be treasurer of the fund and took turns getting 2 per cent of all money paid out. This in addition to the fee for attending the meetings and the time spent in road building.

The new law strips the highway commissioners of their most valued office of treasurer. The supervisor will also attend the meeting of the highway commissioners and receive a fee for doing so.

Before a highway commissioner can expend a sum of $200 or over permission and approval must be secured from the supervisor.

ROAD SUPERVISORS MUST TAKE AN EXAM

CANDIDATES FOR NEW COUNTY OFFICES MUST PASS
A QUIZ.

Candidates for the position of county road superintendents will have to pass an examination before the state commission on roads. The new office was created by the last law provided for a state commission of three men which should have charge of the state roads. Each is to receive a salary of $3,000 per year.
The county superintendent will act under the direction of their supervision.

The county board of supervisors will appoint a number of candidates to take the examination from the state board. From the number who pass the examination a superintendent will be chosen. Should none of these pass the test another lot will be selected. If in this number none are successful the board may appoint a man from anywhere in the state passing the exam.

The salary of the county superintendent will be fixed by the board.
The officer will have general charge of the work on state and county roads and will act as an advisor to the township road commissions. The appointment must be made within six months, in compliance with the law.

SEX STUDY IS ADDED TO SCHOOL COURSE

BY CHICAGO BOARD OF EDUCA-TION—IS MADE OPTIONAL WITH PUPILS.

Chicago, July 19.—The board of education has added to the curriculum of the public high schools the study of sex hygiene. By amendment to the original resolution the name of the study was changed to "personal purity." Instruction in the new subject will begin with the opening of the autumn term.

The board specialists in sex hygiene will give a course of three lectures to all high school pupils. After December, 1913, and during the spring term of 1914 the lectures will be given in first year classes in hygiene, physiology and biology.

For the purposes of this instruction the boys and girls shall be separated. Pupils who bring notes from parents objecting to the subject will be excused.

HAIL STORM VISITS

PROPHETSTOWN FRIDAY

A bad hail storm accompanied by much wind and rain swept Whiteside county in the region of Prophetstown early Friday morning, doing considerable damage to corn, blowing the oats down and demolishing the telephone service.

Mid-Summer Harvest Sale in Dixon Stores July 19th to 26th

BIG BARGAIN WEEK OPENS THIS MORNING

MIDSUMMER HARVEST SALE TO BE GREATEST THING IN CITY'S HISTORY.

MANY STRANGERS INTERESTED

Wonderful Bargains Offered by the Dixon Merchants Are Magnets.

The Midsummer Harvest Sale, which the merchants of Dixon propose to make the greatest event of its kind in the history of the city, opened this morning in every store in the city and until next Saturday night business houses will abound with wonderful bargains, which will certainly result in a large business.

The extent to which this great sale has been advertised is showing results in the many out of town people who took advantage of the event on the first day. Hundreds of out of the city visitors patronized the Dixon stores today and this fact is a criterion that before the next sale closes Saturday night bargains will be found in a majority of homes in this part of the state.

Special Inducements.

Every store in the city is offering special inducements to all patrons and the bargains in every case are worth the attention of all buyers. The prices quoted in the merchants' advertisements as published in this paper Wednesday night, which paper was sent to every household in this vicinity, were startling in many instances, and vouchsafe bargains not to be found in any city in this part of the state. The week promises to be a big one.

FATHER OF DIXON LADY PASSED AWAY

HENRY KROHN, FATHER OF MRS.
W. J. KENNEDY, DIED
LAST NIGHT.

Henry Krohn, a veteran resident of Sterling, father of Mrs. W. J. Kennedy of this city, passed away at his home at 9:30 o'clock last night, his death following a paralytic stroke which he suffered a week ago Wednesday. Mr. Krohn, who had been in the monument business for many years, is well known all over this part of the state. He is survived by his widow and six children.

DANNY MILLER IS

STILL IN THE GAME

Danny Miller, who is pitching with the Quincy baseball team in the Three I League, is doing some creditable work, having won seven games in succession and giving the team a boost which has put them well toward the front in the league. Danny started out in the spring with the Du buques, but was afterwards released to the Quincy's. His ball playing received very creditable mention in the sporting columns of the Sunday Chicago Tribune.

SPIRITUAL DISCOURSE.

Mrs. Seebold has gone to Amboy to deliver a spiritual discourse and give bible explanations.

WEATHER REPORT

The following report of high and low temperatures and precipitation is taken each morning at 7 o'clock and is for the preceding 24 hours:

NEW FURNITURE STORE FOR AMBOY

MENDOTA MAN HAS LEASED THE ROOMS OCCUPIED BY
F. C. VAUGHAN.

Harold F. Epperson of Mendota will open a furniture store at Amboy in the building occupied by the F. C.
Vaughan undertaking rooms. Mr.
Vaughan will continue his undertaking business and Mr. Epperson will have charge of the furniture department. He expects to be ready for business about the latter part of this week.

Mr. Epperson has been employed as a traveling salesman and is a wide-awake, clean and honorable young man deserving the most generous patronage from the citizens of Amboy. He will be a valuable addition to the business interests of that city.

EDITOR INTERVIEWS MRS. O. H. MARTIN

PROMINENT DIXON LADY DISCUS-SES ROAD QUESTION WITH CAL-
FEZER OF THE DEMOCRAT.

Mt. Carroll Democrat: O. H. Martin, wife and daughter Grace of Dixon are spending the day in Mt. Carroll, where Mr. Martin is looking after his store. They came from Dixon in an auto and say that the roads are very fine, as the rain made them just what they should be. Mrs. Martin said they had a fine drive until they struck Mt. Carroll, but she never rode over such streets as we have in a car. She said it was almost impossible to keep in the car between the depot and town. We took the road good naturedly, knowing that it was true, as we have been over the street several times ourselves. They will return this evening. Mr. Martin will probably be here weekly during the absence of Manager Dresbach.

HEADS OF DENVER DAILIES INDICTED

ARE CHARGED WITH PRINTING
INDECENT PICTURES—SEP-TEMBER MORN IN LIST

Denver, July 19.—Special to Telegraph—The executives of four leading dailies here were indicted today on charges of printing indecent pictures. September Morn was among the list.

DENY THEY ARE AGAINST PAVEMENT

FOUR PROPERTY OWNERS SAY
THEY ARE NOT CONTEST-
ING IMPROVEMENT.

Judge Clarity, county Judge of Stephenson county, has not yet submitted his decision on the Second street paving matter and accordingly the board of local improvements has not been able to take action toward advertising the work.

It developed today that four property owners were named in county court as being objectors to the improvement, when they had not authorized a contest of the work in that court, their objections being confined to the public hearing at the city hall. The property owners who deny that they are fighting the improvement in the county court are Mrs.
O. H. Murphy, Mrs. D. D. Decker,
Mrs. Cora M. Kaylor and Miss Clara
Beebe.

GOV. EBERHART HERE SATURDAY

MINNESOTA'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE WILL ADDRESS THOUSANDS
SATURDAY, 2:30 P. M.

DIXON WILL EXTEND WELCOME

Those Not Having Season Tickets Should Buy Them During the Coming Week.

One week from today, July 26th, Governor Eberhart of Minnesota will be a visitor in Dixon. Dixon business men should make an effort to give the chief executive of one of the great Northwest states a most hearty welcome.

Governor Eberhart comes to Dixon to open the Rock River Assembly delivering an address at Assembly park at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The governor is so well known and so well liked that it is expected thousands will attend the Assembly
With the governor of Minnesota there will appear on the platform one of the greatest orchestras of foreign lands, the Balalaika orchestra, the Royal Russian novelty. This orchestra will play a concert before Governor Eberhart delivers his address and will also play a full concert
Saturday evening.

With Governor Eberhart and this famous orchestra the Assembly will start off with a vim. Let Saturday be a record day in point of attendance.
Secure Tickets Now.

With only one more week until the opening of the Assembly, Dixon people who have not provided themselves with season tickets should do so within a few days. By buying the tickets before the opening day the management of the Assembly will feel encouraged in their efforts to make the coming session a successful one.

The advance work for the opening of the Assembly is about completed and the program committee and all who have devoted their time to boosting for the Assembly feel very much encouraged over the prospects for a very successful season this year. A large number of families have already leased tents and by next Saturday morning Assembly park will have the appearance of a White City.
Quite a number will move to the park the first of next week.

Dixon people should show their appreciation of the city's popular summer affair and turn out in large numbers on the opening day.

RUNAWAY TEAM INJURES BABY GIRL

FOUR-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER OF
IRA RUTT HAD PAINFUL EXPERIENCE.

The four-year-old daughter of Ira Rutt had a narrow escape from very serious injury late yesterday afternoon when her father's team ran away, knocked the child down and drew the heavy wagon over her little body. Fortunately the baby escaped with nothing more serious than a few bruises.

The little one was standing before the horses when suddenly they started to run away, and before she could get out of their path she was knocked down and two wheels of the wagon passed over her. Her escape from vital injury is indeed miraculous.

MR. WATSON IS BETTER.

Word was received in Dixon this morning that F. A. Watson, who has been seriously ill in Chicago, is very much better. He passed a restful night and his condition is encouraging.

FORMER LEE COUNTY EDITOR PASSED AWAY

JOHN W. DAUTRICH, FOUNDER OF COMPTON CITIZEN, IS DEAD.

John W. Dautrich, who founded the Compton Citizen, which is now published at Dixon, died July 2 at Joplin, Mo., at the age of 40 years, under rather strange circumstances.
He was editor of the Joplin, Mo.,
Miner, and had stopped in a Joplin
Hotel returning from a trip to Pertle Springs, where he attended a meeting of the Missouri Press association.
In the morning he was found on the floor of his room drawn in a cramped and unnatural position, face downward. His body was discolored and the features were contorted, indicating that death was preceded by great pain. There were no indications of violence, however and it was thought possible that he died of poison.

NEW PRINCIPAL ARRIVES HERE

PROF. WOOD AND FAMILY COME TO DIXON TO TAKE UP SCHOOL WORK.

LaMoille Gazette: Prof. Wood, principal of the Allen school last year, went Tuesday to his new home in Dixon, taking his household goods with him. Mrs. Wood did not leave until the following day. D. C. Smith accompanied them and will make his home there with them.

Mr. Wood will fill the position of principal of the North Side high school in Dixon, a position which carries a considerable increase in salary over the one here, as well as increased opportunities for advancement. His many friends in LaMoille will wish him much success in his new position.

FIREMEN EXERCISE HORSES IN EVENING

The members of the Dixon fire department have changed the time for the daily exercise of the horses from early morning until 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

FAST TRAIN WILL STOP AT FRANKLIN

Through the courtesy of Mayor Brinton, officials of the Northwestern have been prevailed upon to have the 11:29 passenger train stop at Franklin Grove for the accommodation of the M. E. choir and others who might wish to attend the Franklin Grove camp meeting tomorrow.

DR. BOYD RETURNS.

Dr. Boyd has returned from a professional visit in Detroit and Chicago.

AVERAGE VALUE OF LANDS, HORSES AND CATTLE IN COUNTY IS HIGH THIS YEAR

The record of the work of the assessors of the various townships has unless you are looking for a farm on which you can make more money, live more comfortably than where you are now. YOUR opportunity is in Western New York. Fertile, productive farms; near markets; fine roads, schools, churches, colleges; excellent improvements all tend to make life here profitable and enjoyable. We have a farm to fit your purse. Here are a few taken from the many:

For General Farming.

Farm 102 is well adapted. 85 acres $99 acre. Only 1½ miles from railroad and small village; soil fertile; well adapted to fruit growing. Well drained; five acres alfalfa. Nice 8 room house heated by furnace; stone foundation; roomy cellar, well and cistern. Main barn 34x70 stone foundation, wing 16x32, open sheds for stock and machinery. Old house used for tools; other buildings all recently painted, repaired, in first class shape.

For Fruit Growing

Farm 232, 152 acres, although not at present strictly a fruit farm, is situated close to some of the finest in this country. Soil sandy loam. About 1600 peach trees set out in 1912, also peaches and apples in bearing; 27 acres woodland and pasture. Good 14 room house, large cellar, slate roof, good repair. Three barns all connected; hay and grain barn 32x100 with basement; hay barn 28x48; wagon barn 28x36. Buildings all on stone foundations, in first class repair. Price $75 acre.

For Stock Raising

We recommend farm 301, 210 acres @ $25 acre. Rolling land; good spring; well drained. Young apple orchard 50 trees. House 10 rooms, cellar. Water piped to house and barns from spring. Basement barn, stanchions for 11 cows in basement. Such farms in the west would sell for $200 to $300 acre. Don't buy any where until you have investigated them. We can sell them on Easy terms. Write for further information. Ask for our circular "Stepping Over Dollars."

FOUND IN BRITISH HANDS

Carnegie Scouts Theory Money Was Not Wisely Spent from New York.

London, July 19.—Andrew Carnegie has entrusted the Carnegie Dunfermline Trust with the administration of the income from $10,000,000 of five per cent. Steel bonds heretofore administered by the Carnegie corporation of New York. In a letter the iron master says:

The transfer of administration from my wife and to my motherland has not been made because the fund has not been wisely administered in New York but because in the nature of things the conditions which have enabled me to keep closely in touch with the fund must soon change. It is my duty to consider the future.

The Dunfermline Trust is to be given full power to devote the fund "into the most beneficial uses for the good of the masses of Great Britain and Ireland."

Not in Sentence.

"Doesn't your choir sing at the prison any more?"

"No, several of the prisoners objected on the ground that it wasn't included in their sentences."

Different Now.

"Father, did mother accept you the first time you proposed to her?"

"Yes, my dear; but since then any proposal that I have ever made she has scornfully rejected."

A Magazine Trick.

"Ten years ago you swore you were going to stop taking this magazine."

"Well, whenever I start a serial story I've got to finish it, and they keep 'em overlapping."

CHILDLESS WOMEN

These women once childless, now happy and physically well with healthy children will tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made all this possible. Here are the names and correct addresses—write them if you want to, and learn for yourself. They are only a few out of many thousands.

"Our first baby is strong and healthy and we attribute this result to the timely use of your Compound."—Mrs. FRED JOHNSON, Kent, Oregon.

"I owe my life and my baby's good health to your Compound."—Mrs. W. O. SPENCER, R. F. D. No. 2, Troy, Alabama.

"I have three children and feel good. I took your Compound each time."—Mrs. JOHN HOWARD, Wilmington, Vermont.

"I have a lovely baby boy and you can tell every one that he is a 'Pinkham' baby."—Mrs. LOUIS FISCHER, 32 Monroe St., Carlstadt, N. J.

"We are at last blessed with a sweet little baby."—Mrs. G. A. LAFEROUSE, Montegut, La.

"I have one of the finest baby girls you ever saw."—Mrs. C. E. GOODWIN, 1012 S. 6th St., Wilmington, N. C.

"My husband is the happiest man alive today."—Mrs. CLARA DARRBAKE, 307 Marilla St., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Now I have a nice baby girl, the joy of our home."—Mrs. D. SYLVIA COLE, No. 117 So. Gate St., Worcester, Mass.

"I have a fine strong baby daughter now."—Mrs. A. A. GILES, Dewittville, N. Y., Route 44.

"I have a big, fat, healthy boy."—Mrs. A. A. BALENGER, R. F. D. No. 1, Baltimore, Ohio.

RAIL PEACE IS NEAR

New Decision to Abide by Mediators Stills Strike Threats.

Workers Wary But Firm—Men Ready to Strike Despite Apparent Victory.

New York, July 19.—A new angle in the threatened rail strike of 100,000 men on eastern roads indicates peace will not be as hopeless as thought at one time. The roads came to an agreement to abandon their demand for arbitration of "all questions of pay and working conditions" to the new federal board of mediation and conciliation, thereby lessening the possibility of a strike while the trainmen were still threatening in the afternoon. As the workers have practically agreed to submit their case to the arbitration board and abide by the result, it is believed with the new attitude of the roads, all danger of a strike has passed.

In a letter to the leaders of the trainmen the conference committee of managers said it seemed to them "that the immediate difference of opinion relating to the points to be submitted for arbitration is a matter to be considered by the board of mediation and conciliation."

The managers had referred to their demands that "all questions of pay and working conditions" be settled along with that of the men's demand for better wages.

The managers in their letter of July 16 setting forth their eight grievances referred to them as the ones which the railroads "intend" to have incorporated in the agreement to arbitrate. The roads in their letter to the men last night, while describing their position as unchanged, expressed themselves as "willing" to refer their demands to the mediation board.

President Lee of the Brotherhood of Trainmen commented upon the change in wording. He expressed belief that a comparison of the two letters indicated a modification of the roads' position has taken place within the last forty-eight hours.

Washington, July 19.—The new federal board of mediation and conciliation held its first meeting here today.

WEALTHY JOY RIDER DIES

Three Others Hurt When Machine Turns Turtle.

Green Bay, Wis., July 19.—When his automobile turned turtle near Grafton, Wis., George Hoberg, thirty-five years old, millionaire officer of the Hoberg Mill company, met almost instant death, while three other occupants escaped death or serious injury in a miraculous manner.

George Burschinger, thirty-five years old, of Green Bay, was thrown against a fence, but will live.

Miss Stella Wisner, twenty-eight years old, and Miss Helen Glick, both of Sheboygan, were the other occupants of the car. The girls first met the men the day before the accident.

HAVENS FLIES INTO DETROIT

Aeroyachtsman Completes Journey From Chicago Over Lake Route.

Detroit, Mich., July 19.—Beckwith Havens completed his flying-boat trip from Chicago to Detroit. He followed the route planned for the Chicago-Detroit aviation cruise and covered 900 miles. It is said to have been the most remarkable trip ever undertaken by flying-boats.

Russia to Build Home for Embassy

Newport, R. I., July 19.—George Bakhmetoff, the Russian ambassador, has received at his summer residence advices from St. Petersburg that his government has appropriated a sum of money for the erection of a permanent home for the embassy in Washington.

FACES ARE ALTERED BY FOOD

Specialists Say That the Contours Are Changed From Plain to Pretty, or Vice Versa.

You can, according to the opinion of an American expert, alter your children's features by varying their food.

If your little daughter, for instance, has too heavy a face, too massive a chin, and you are afraid that she will grow up unprepossessing, cease to give her foods with starch in them, and she will become dainty and graceful.

Should she, on the other hand, be too slender of feature, with a tiny chin, you can develop rounded curves by giving her more starch than she has been having.

"Man is what he eats," says this expert, and he then mentions such divergencies from the normal facial type as "starch chin," "onion chin," "tea drinker's teeth," "full-lipped sugar mouth" and "potato lip." These divergencies, he says, are caused by the articles of diet named.

"The food eaten makes an enormous difference in people's appearance," a Bond street beauty doctor who has had several years' hospital experience, said, "and though it cannot alter the framework of the adult face it can that of young children while their bones are still growing."

"The child who has too much starch develops puffy flesh all over the face, which then appears too massive."

DEMENTTOWN ... DOINGS

The Dear Boy

A mother sent her small boy into the country, and after a week of anxiety she received this letter: "I got here all right but forgot to write before. A feller and I went out in a boat and the boat tipped over and a man got me out. I was so full of water I didn't know anything for a good time. The other boy was to be buried after they find him. A horse kicked me over and I have got to have some money for fixin' my head. We are going to set an old barn on fire tonight and I should smile if I don't have some bully fun. I am going to bring home a tame woodchuck if I can get 'em in my trunk."

Weather Hints.

Be careful of your diet. Be sure and eat plenty of light food, such as corned beef and cabbage, pork and beans, sweetbreads, and bacon, sauer kraut and frankfurters, breaded salt pork, hot mince pie and buckwheat cakes.

If you are uncomfortable in bed, get up and try to sleep in one of those old fashioned drooping hammocks. Then you will be glad to get back into bed.

Switzerland is a good place to spend the summer. This hint will doubtless be of value to nearly one half of 1 per cent of our readers.

If you are so hot that you don't know what to do with yourself, go out and split four cords of wood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Goodsell went to Chicago this morning for a short visit.

R. J. Stohower transacted business in Rochelle today.

CURRENT WIT and HUMOR

The Stranger.

A stranger knocked at a man's door and told him of a fortune to be made. "Um," said the man. "It appears that considerable effort will be involved."

"Oh, yes," said the stranger, "you will pass many sleepless nights and toilsome days."

"Um," said the man, "and who are you?" "I am called Opportunity."

"Um," said the man, "you call yourself Opportunity, but you look like hard work to me."

And he slammed the door.

No Solace There.

"My favorite football team," complained the gridiron enthusiast, "is losing right along this season."

"Well," said the baseball enthusiast, "it is always better to do your losing early in the season."

"I know that axiom goes good in baseball, but we've got such a darn short season."

Sophisticated.

"You haven't asked me if you are the only girl I have ever kissed."

"It is not necessary."

"You know you are, girl."

"No, I know I'm not. You don't kiss like an amateur. But you have not asked me if you are the first man I have ever permitted to kiss me."

"No, that isn't necessary, either."

Catty!

Nan—Isn't it laughable to see Miss Wilson put on youthful airs?

Fan—Gee, yes! I heard her complaining the other day that she couldn't eat Northern Spy apples because they set her teeth on edge!

SAW HIM HIMSELF.

Cyrus—Say, Mandy, yer know that we're just the biggest fools in the world.

Mandy—What on earth air ye talkin' about now, Cy?

Cyrus—Hain't we bin tellin' the young ones that there wuz a real Santa Claus an' we didn't believe it ourselves. Well, goi darn me if I didn't see the old man walkin' erbout in a store winder in New York.

True.

He's never smoked a cigarette, A girl he's never kissed; The first is quite commendable, The second's something missed.

Real Reason.

"I didn't know she was left-handed."

"She isn't."

"But she seems to do everything with her left hand."

"Yes. Haven't you noticed the engagement ring?"

Accompaniment.

Mr. Henballot—They are saying that even the Chinese have granted votes to women.

Mr. Grouchmore—I'm not astonished. Think of the centuries that Chinese women have been wearing trousers.

No Use.

"So you are on your way to propose to Miss Pickle?"

"You bet! Wish me luck!"

"Oh, I wish you luck, all right; but it won't do you a bit of good; I feel sure she is going to accept you."

Literat.

There is something very uplifting about those giant rocks hurled into the air by man's power.

"You bet it's uplifting. It's nitroglycerine, that is."

Consoling.

"There is one consolation in telling a one-legged man you want to marry his daughter."

"What is that?"

"He can't kick."

TRY IT YOURSELF SOMETIME.

"That's a swell umbrella you carry." "Isn't it?" "Did you come by it honestly?" "I haven't quite figured out. It started to rain the other day and I stepped into a doorway to wait till it stopped. Then I saw a young fellow coming along with a nice, large umbrella, and I thought if he was going as far as my house I would beg the shelter of umbershoot. So I stepped out and asked: 'Where are you going with that umbrella, young fellow?' and he dropped the umbrella and ran."

Different Kind.

Mayor Gaynor of New York was once talking about the fondness of some men for tacking official titles onto their names.

"I once met," he said, "a man who called himself Judge Green, and I ventured to ask him if he was a United States Judge or a circuit court judge."

"I hadn't neither," he told me; "I'm a judge of horses!"

Classifying Him.

"Brother Hardesty, can't you make your contribution for the education of the heathen a little larger than usual this year?"

"Dr. Goodman, I'm more than doubling it; I have just started that youngest boy of mine to college."

STILL FRIENDLY.

Wigs—Do you still keep up your friendship with the Joneses? Digs—We see them very little, but we annoy each other with Christmas presents every year.

Passed Up.

I used to know a little girl who surely was a queen; She didn't know me now because she owns a limousine.

In a Quandry.

A member of parliament has been showing round a letter that he has just received from one of his constituents. The writer is evidently worried about the provisions of the deceased wife's sister act, and in the course of the letter he asks if it is compulsory.

"By this I mean," he goes on to explain, "if my present wife dies, am I compelled to marry her sister?"

How It Happened.

"It is said that the name of the first Chinese aviator is Fwz Yu."

"That isn't his name. When he signified his intention of taking up aviation his friends all hollered: 'If I was you I wouldn't!' and the Chink reporter on the scene thought they were hollering: 'Fwz Yu, I wouldn't!'"

Not So Smart.

"Here's a smart fellow shows up the lawyers," remarked Dr. Squills.

"Is that so? What does he say?" "Well, no matter. I see I was mistaken in my estimate of him. A little further on the scoundrel attempts to vilify the medical profession."

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

Bronson—My wife is busy getting ready for Christmas.

Woodson—What has she done? Bronson—Oh! She's priced hundreds of things she hasn't the slightest idea of buying.

The Optimist.

I cannot say what idle dreams I'm darker moments cheer; So brightly fair the future gleams, Life's shadows disappear.

Saw the Bright Side.

Jack—I tell you courting a girl is mighty expensive.

Tom—Yes, but thank heaven one doesn't need a lawyer to sue for a girl's hand.

Quite Another Thing.

Marks—I hear that you have been operating in the stock market.

Parks—You've been misinformed. I've been operated upon.

Adrift with Humor

Beating the Game.

"Yes, sir," smiled Mr. Tyte-Phtst, who was in a reminiscent mood, "when I was a youngster they played that old trick on me. The other boys got me out in the woods one dark night to hunt snipe."

"And they told you to hold the sack while they went off and drove the snipe into it," said one of the listeners.

"That's right. I stayed there blam'd near all night, too. But they didn't get ahead of me, just the same. I beat 'em at their own game."

"How was that?"

"I kept the sack, by gum!"

Real Blow.

First Excited Railroad Official—Heard the news?

Second Same Thing—Oh, not so bad. Only five killed—two of 'em brakemen.

First—But, my heavens, didn't you know that along with that vaudeville baggage we were carrying Jungles, the $200,000 trained baboon. The wreck drove him crazy, and the owner's getting ready to sue the road for his full value.—Puck

Soft Hearted.

"I'm afraid I don't love Henry any more," said Mrs. Wiffen to her closest friend, Mrs. Agnew.

"Oh, don't say that, my dear."

"I'm afraid it's true."

"Surely you are not thinking of a divorce?"

"Yes, I am, but when I reflect that there is probably not another woman in the world who can make waffles just the way Henry likes them, I haven't the heart to divorce him."

Bronson—What are you going to give your wife as a Christmas present this year?

Woodson—I'm going to give her one evening in the week, I've resigned my membership in one of the secret societies I belong to.

Can't Explain It.

There's something 'bout A girlly show That somehow makes Us want to go.

Not a Holler.

"So she's gone in for athletics."

"I should say so. I found that out when I tried to kiss her."

"But she hollered for help, didn't she?"

"No, that was me you heard, hollering for help."

The Usual Trick.

"Are you going to defend yourself against the charge of grafting?"

"Not yet," replied the astute politician, Hyer Rupp. "I'm going to find another system of graft that I don't care so much about and see if I can't sic the investigation onto that."

Retrenchment.

He—I told you, my dear, that you must cut down some of our living expenses.

She—I have, dear. I've withdrawn our subscription to the foreign missionary fund.

What He Thought.

The Teacher—Why, Jimmy, Jimmy? Have you forgotten your pencils again? What would you think of a soldier going to war without a gun?

Jimmy—I'd think he was an officer.

Home Comforts.

Mrs. Fluddub—My husband goes out every evening for a little constitutional. Does yours?

Mrs. Guzzler—No; my husband always keeps it in the house.—Puck

Its Proof.

"I am going to give my husband for a present a handsome ebony cane with a heavy silver handle."

"That will show him you intend to stick at nothing."

DEATH FOR "WITCH"

INTERESTING RELIC OF THE DAYS OF IGNORANCE.

Historical Archives of Salem, Mass. Reveal Depths of Superstition and Folly in Which Our Forefathers Were Sunk.

Investigators making search through the archives of the Peabody Institute at Salem, Mass., have just unearthed a seventeenth century warrant condemning to death Bridget Bishop, wife of a Salem attorney, on a charge of witchcraft.

Contrary to the traditions that witches were burned in Massachusetts, in the warrant condemning Mrs. Bishop to death William Stoughton, who with his associates in the warrant are styled judges of a special court of Oyer and Terminer for the counties of Essex, Middlesex and Suffolk, orders that George Corwin, the sheriff, shall hang her by the neck until she is dead.

Appended to the warrant is the return certificate made by Corwin showing that he had carried out the orders of the court.

The warrant and return are in seventeenth century English script, and transcribed reads as follows: "To George Corwin Gent'n, High Sheriff of the County of Essex Greeting:

"Whereas Bridget Bishop a'ts Olliver, the wife of Edward Bishop of Salem in the County of Essex Lawyer at a special Court of Oyer and Terminer held at Salem the second day of this instant month of June for the Counties of Essex Middlesex and Suffolk before William Stoughton, Esquire, and his associates of the said court was indicted and arraigned upon five several indictments for using practicing and exercising on the last past and divers days and times the felonies of Witchcraft in and upon the bodies of Abigail Williams, Ann Putnam, Mercy Lewis, Mary Walcott and Elizabeth Hubbard of Salem village, single women; whereby their bodies were hurt, afflicted, plined consumed and tormented contrary to the forme of the statute in that case made and provided. To which indictment the said Bridget Bishop pleaded not guilty and for Tryall thereof put herself upon God and her Country whereupon she was found guilty of the Felonies and Witchcrafts whereof she stood indicted and sentence of Death accordingly passed ag't her as the Law directs. Execution whereof yet remains to be done. These are therefore in the names of their majties William and Mary now King and Queen over England &c. to will and command you That upon Friday next being the Tenth day of this instant month of June between the hours of eight and twelve in the afternoon of the same day you safely conduct the s'd Bridget Bishop a'ts Olliver from their majties Gaol in Salem afores'd to the place of execution and there cause her to be hanged by the neck until she be dead and of your doings herein make returne to the clerk of the s'd Court and of this precept. And hereof you are not to faile at your peril. And this shall be your sufficient warrant given under my hand & seal at Boston the eighth day of June in the fourth year of the reigne of our Sovereign Lord William and Mary now King and Queen over England, &c., Anno'q's Dom. 1692.

"WM. STOUGHTON.

"June 10th, 1692.

"According to the within written precept I have taken the body of the within named Bridgett Bishop out of their majesties gaol in Salem and safely conveyed her to the place provided for her execution and caused y s'd Bridget to be hanged by the neck until she was dead all which was according to the time within required and so I make returne by me.

"GEORGE CORWIN, Sheriff."

The First Requisite.

When Senator Vance was running for congress he called on an old negro who had in early life served the Vance family. Asked after his health, the negro replied: "Mighty poly in this world, but it's all right over yander."

"Do you believe in the doctrine of election?" asked Vance with great solemnity. "It's the doctrine of the Bible," answered the old man.

"Uncle Ephraim, do you think I've been elected?" asked Vance again. "Massa Zeb, I'd a little rather you wouldn't draw that question. I'm too near de grave to tell a lie, but the fac' am, I neber yest knowed nor hear tell of no man bein' elected what want'n a candidate."

The Parable of the Ten Ideas.

A teacher put ten facts into a boy's mind, and when he returned a few months later, to see if the facts were still there, he was pleased to find that the boy remembered them. He paid the boy a high compliment on the possession of a mind that could hold knowledge so securely and deliver it up on demand with such prompt and beautiful exactness! Another teacher gave another boy ten facts, and some time after he also tested the boy to see what had happened. He found that from the ten he had given the boy there had grown a large number of other facts. He made no further inquiry, for he was not interested to know whether the facts he had given him were still there or not. He saw that the purpose for which they had been put in the boy's mind was working out all right, and there his interest ended.

RECORDS OF ANTIQUITY

INSCRIPTIONS THAT TELL ABOUT LIFE IN FORMER AGES.

Religious Forms, Business Methods, Historical Events and Many Other Things Revealed by Carvings in Stone and Metal.

Inscriptions by no means are the product of modern learning. The ancients left 150,000 that have been resurrected, translated and printed not counting the epitaphs on ordinary graves of thousands of years ago, which are not deemed worth the trouble.

Ancient peoples—Sabeans, Phoenicians, Etruscans, Oceans, Umbrians, Babylonians, Assyrians, Numidians, Germanic tribes, Iberians, Celts, Norse—all carved their records in stone and metal. Paper was not as common in those days as now.

The permanent records thus left include religious forms, business accounts, royal proclamations and boasts of deeds accomplished, epitaphs, mortuary tablets, altars, temples, aqueducts, tax receipts, etc. Evidently property was not safe in the old days and they had the habit of writing on seals, gems, vases and other bric-a-brac by way of identifying them.

Both in this country and abroad scholars devote much of their time to deciphering these mute records of the past, and it is quite likely that the successors to our population—if such there shall be—will find information in the Eliot inscriptions for their learned tomes.

In France, along with other countries, they have one of the inscriptions, which is preparing books of the Greek and Latin relics by photography. The experts begin this job in 1881.

In 1868 Mommsen and Huebner, the great historians, projected a similar task under the Berlin academy and at last accounts the savants who are continuing their labors were still collecting. They have published many volumes and have preserved some 10,000 of the 20,000 extant Greek inscriptions.

It is a great part that the carved words of bygone ages has played in modern knowledge. The finding of the Rosetta stone with its identical message in both Egyptian and Greek provided the clew that unlocked the mysteries of the Nile delta's early history.

Some of the languages and most of the history of Asia Minor has been preserved by the same method. Also some years ago at Hiss Ghorab on the Arabian coast, there was found a stone, which being deciphered, proclaimed, according to some, that the apple which Eve gave to Adam and thus made us all work for a living wasn't an apple, but a pomegranate.

Earth's oldest inscription belonged to the Phoenicians once, and was hewn out some 3,000 years ago, being a dedicated bronze vessel for the temple of Baal Lebanon by Hiram, king of the Sidonians. It was found in Cyprus and is now in the Louvre museum at Paris.

That Wonderful Event

IF THERE is a time above all times when a woman should be in perfect physical condition it is the time previous to the coming of her babe. During this period many women suffer from headache, sleeplessness, pain of various description, poor appetite, and a host of other ailments which should be eliminated in justice to the new life about to be ushered into this world.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

is a scientific medicine carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to the needs and requirements of women's delicate system. It has been recommended for over forty years as a remedy for those peculiar ailments which make that appearance during "the expectant" period. Motherhood is made easier by its use. Thousands of women have been benefited by this great medicine.

Your druggist can supply you in liquid or tablet form, or you can send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription Tablets, to Dr. Pierce, at Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo.

It is your privilege to write to Dr. Pierce for advice, and it will be gladly given free of charge. Of course all communications are confidential.

AT LOS ANGELES, CAL.FORMER RESIDENTS OF CITY
HOLD REUNION NEXT SATURDAY.

The fourth annual picnic and reunion of the Dixon, Ill. Association of Southern California will be held on Saturday, July 26th, at Sycamore Grove, near Los Angeles, announcements of the affair having been sent out by Mrs. B. O. Boothby of Los Angeles. The promoters of the association of former Dixonites are planning to make this picnic the most successful they have ever had and have arranged some special features.

The officers of the Dixon Association are: George E. Krinbill president; J. T. Potter, vice president; W. B. Johnson, Treas.; B. O. Boothby, general secretary; H. H. Crabtree corresponding secretary and E. H. Moore, recording secretary. The committee for the picnic this year is: J. W. Howell, Mrs. H. J. Krinbill, F. L. Morris, Mrs. E. Koch, C. R. Winters and Mrs. D. S. Lafferty.

Many local friends of the former residents of this city will wish the California "Dixonites" a bright and happy day, and successful reunion in every particular.

INSURANCE WILL NOT

COVER THE LOSS

All the outbuildings on the Francis Miller farm, about five miles from this city on the Chicago road, were destroyed by fire a week or more ago. It was stated then that the loss was covered by insurance. Such, however, is not the case. The buildings were only insured for $1440, and it will cost at least $3000 to replace the barn.

BEES ATTACK

ROCK FALLS WOMAN
Sterling Gazette: Mrs. E. J. Sherry of Rock Falls was seriously injured by bees Saturday. She was at work in the garden and was attacked by a swarm of bees which flew under her sunbonnet. Many of the insects became entangled in her hair, stinging her about the head and face in a horrible manner. Neighbor women rushed to her assistance and summoned medical assistance.

CLYDE THOME IS NOW

FAMILY THEATRE

Two of the best acts booked during the summer season are appearing at this theatre tonight and tomorrow for the last times. Will H. Fields and LaAdelaide, a team of exceptional merit, are introducing a sketch entitled the Janitor and the Maid interpolated with a comic Jew character as the monologue part and the clever toe dancer which is a real treat. Frank Cotter, the funny clown, with his chair balancing and long distance diving, is a very enjoyable feature for old and young.

$149 PER ACRE FOR

OGLE COUNTY FARM

Fred Brandt has sold his farm of 323 acres, located a mile from Oregon, Ogle county, to Aaron Book of Sterling. The price paid was $48,065, or about $149 per acre. The farm is one of the best in Ogle county, having a good house with modern improvements, excellent barns and the improvements are first class in every particular. Much of the land is under cultivation, while the short distance from the city enhances its value. Mr. Book will, it is understood, move onto the farm next year.

RAISE ENGLISH PHEASANTS

AT SINNISIPI FARM

Down at Sinnissippi farm Billy Hewitt is taking the best possible care of the English pheasants this year, says the Mt. Morris Index. About thirty of the nesting birds have brought out broods of from 12 to 18, and if left alone a few years they will multiply rapidly. They are great insect destroyers, and are of much good to farmers. They are very beautiful birds, and with a little patience Nachusa township may soon have enough of them to make good shooting.

SON BORN.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoberg, 418 College avenue, Friday morning.

BELIEVE DAUGHTER

HAS BLACK ART

Rockford, July 19.—The Rockford police yesterday p. m. went to the home of J. L. Johnson, living on the Belmont Interurban line south of Roscoe, near the Harlem consolidated school, called there by a report that the family accused the daughter, Mrs. Beulah Andrews of being a witch. The report stated that there was a hot fight at the farm.

When the officers reached the farm they found Mrs. Andrews working in a field, clad in men's trousers and doing a man's labor. The family was taken to Rockford, the police feeling that all except the father were mentally affected.

GOMPERS PLOT
TOLD TO SENATE

Mulhall Swears N. A. M. Had Scheme to Get Labor Leader to Desert.

COLONEL IS CALLED PERJURER

Candidate for Congress Tells Senate Lobby Committee That Witness Perjured Himself in Testimony Before Body.

Washington, July 19.—The senate lobby investigating committee was told by S. Wood McClave, Republican candidate for congress in a special election to be held in the Sixth New Jersey district, that Martin M. Mulhall had perjured himself in his testimony before that body. He also denied that Mulhall had raised or spent money for him or had managed his campaign against William Hughes in 1910.

McClave added that it had been said that Hughes, his opponent, now senator, received a $5,000 campaign fund from the American Federation of Labor and that he felt it was proper for him to accept aid from manufacturers.

Tells Gompers-Cannon Stories.

Mulhall gave the senate investigating committee his story of the alleged effort in 1907-1908 to bribe Samuel Gompers to desert the cause of labor and support the policies advocated by the National Association of Manufacturers. He admitted he had no positive information that an attempt to bribe Gompers actually had been made, but said Atherton Brownell of New York had told him of what was to be done.

That the National Association of Manufacturers sought the re-election of Joseph G. Cannon to congress in Illinois in the campaign of 1908 was set forth by Mulhall, confessed lobbyist for the manufacturers. In the correspondence Mulhall had submitted to the committee was a letter bearing on Cannon's candidacy.

This was written to Mulhall by Secretary Schwedman of the association August 17, 1908, and declared that all the energies of the manufacturers' organization would be concentrated in Cannon's district "if there is the slightest occasion for it."

Finds Half-Brother Lobby.

The Citizens Industrial association of America, with C. W. Post as president and many officers of the National Association of Manufacturers on its list, figured prominently in the proceedings. Several letters on the stationery of this association, and signed "James A. Emery, Secretary," were read. Senator Reed suggested it was a "half-brother" to the manufacturers' association.

Edward Hines, Chicago lumberman, who figured in the Lorimer case, came into the hearing again. Mulhall swore that in a letter to the manufacturers August 27, 1908, Hines spoke of a promise to send $1,000 to go "into the right channel to be used for legitimate purposes" in the Perkins district of Wisconsin.

Mulhall was excused until Monday, on the ground that he was tired after a week of continuous testimony.

Takes Up Gompers Case.

The committee opened the Gompers incident with newspaper clippings showing that Gompers had made the bribery charges before a court in 1908 and that President Van Cleave of the manufacturers' association had denied all connection with them. Mulhall said he had been referred by Van Cleave and Schwedman to Mr. Brownell, who said he was conducting a publicity bureau for the association.

Brownell told him, he said, that a man named Brandenburg was following up Gompers; that they had a plan fixed up by which they expected to "get" the labor leader, and that they were positive they could not fail. Mulhall said he warned them they would not succeed, and later advised Van Cleave to the same effect.

Van Cleave Called It a Trap.

Van Cleave left New York suddenly, the witness said, after telling him that he had nearly "fallen into a trap."

"He said they wanted him to go downtown to meet those people, but he got a tip not to go," added Mulhall. "He told me he thought Brownell had more sense than to go into a trap of that kind."

This was the extent of Mulhall's knowledge of the matter, but he insisted that from previous information he had he knew the plan on foot was to force Gompers into signing a document that would insure his future action.

Sailors of Pacific Reserve Fleet Mob "Red Flag" Offices in Seattle.

DANIELS ASSAILS CREED

Attack Follows Clash Between Men and Sailors in Which Latter Were Defeated—Police Look On.

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—United States sailors and marines from the Pacific reserve fleet, reinforced by soldiers and some young civilians, made a general raid on Socialist and Industrial Workers of the World strongholds in this city. The attack followed a clash Thursday night between I. W. W. people and sailors, in which three of Uncle Sam's men were beaten up.

A provost guard of fifty men of the fleet was hurried ashore in cutters to arrest all the rioters, who caused much damage.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels was dining on the cruiser West Virginia, the guest of Admiral Reynolds, when the rioting began. The rioting was ascribed to a speech he had made in denunciation of the red flag.

Two Parties of Rioters.

There were two parties of rioters. The first wrecking party to get under way was composed of twelve men of the navy, several members of the Washington naval reserve and 100 young civilians. Waving United States flags the storming party swooped down on the cart news stand of Milard Price, a Socialist orator, at Fourth avenue and Westlake boulevard, the busiest night corner in the city.

The cart was broken to splinters and the big stock of Socialist papers and magazines destroyed.

The mob rushed to Socialist headquarters on Fifth avenue, smashed the plate glass window and nailed American flags to the front of the building. Two policemen smiled complacently on the wreckers. The sailors tore the signs off the front of the building and broke them to pieces.

Sack Socialist Quarters.

Meanwhile, a second party of men from the fleet attacked the big Industrial Workers' headquarters on Washington street, in the southern part of the city. The contents of the building were dragged into the street and a bonfire made of them.

The mob reformed in the north part of the city after it had been dispersed and went back to the Socialist headquarters and sacked the place, destroying furniture and a large quantity of literature.

Shortly before midnight Secretary Daniels, addressing a banquet at the Rainier club in his honor, praised the attitude of the mayor of Boston, who stopped a red flag parade.

"The red flag has no place in this country," he said, "and believers in it have no place in this country. A mayor who does not enforce the law against the red flag is not fit to hold office, and people who believe in the red flag should be driven from the country."

It is said the riot was caused primarily by the fact that several sailors got into a fight with Industrial Workers at a street meeting.

AUTOISTS' IN DARING FEAT

Indiana People Are First to Go Over New Road.

Salt Lake City, July 19.—Following a trail over which a mountain goat might well hesitate to travel, the Indiana automobile manufacturers took a chance and won, leaving Price, Utah. They will go into history as being the first automobilists to go over the new roadway between Price and this city. For five miles the road is high on the mountain side, narrow, winding and in many places steep.

The going was very slow, all the drivers feeling their way and all succeeding in coming over the pass safely, arriving in the Utah metropolis at five o'clock.

At Spanish Fork Governor Spry joined the party and rode with them to Salt Lake City. The last half of the day's journey was down the beautiful Wasatch valley, where the roads were exceedingly fine, and from Price to Salt Lake the 19 showed a proof of 40 miles an hour.

POPE'S GUARDS AGAIN REBEL

Declare They Will Not Work Until Chief Is Removed.

Rome, July 19.—For the second time within a week the famous Swiss Guards attached to the Vatican mutinied. The cause of the outbreak is their objection to the rigid military discipline imposed by Captain Glasdon, who is in temporary command. The guards notified Cardinal Merry del Val that they would not go on duty of any sort until he consented to the removal of Glasdon from command, pending Colonel Repond's return.

Huerta Regime Not to Be Recognized Though Wooing Support of Japanese.

U. S. DEMANDS ARMY GUARD

In Response Neighbor Republic Sends Troops to Protect Consul at Durango—Mexican Bandits Execute American.

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson and his cabinet held a long session on the Mexican situation. Secretary Bryan had a long conference with the president before the other members arrived. Although reports of Mexican conditions are coming from various sources, the administration is looking forward to first-hand information from Ambassador Wilson, on his way from Mexico City.

It was authoritatively announced again that the attitude of the administration remained unchanged. The cabinet unanimously was in accord with the president in awaiting a return to stable conditions in the republic before extending recognition to the Mexican government.

Some members of the cabinet were not inclined to think any action would be taken following Ambassador Wilson's conference with the president next week. Mr. Wilson will reach Havana Monday.

See Mystery as to Japan.

Announcement that General Felix Diaz had been appointed special ambassador to Japan revived speculation over the real purpose of his mission. Some officials wonder whether President Huerta is trying to bring about a more cordial understanding with Japan as a delicate hint to force the United States to recognize the Mexican government.

Jingoes, who always see war with Japan, even fancy Mexico's ceding Japan a naval base at Magdalena bay. Japan has not recognized the Huerta regime, but has signified its intention of doing so.

In response to Consul Hamm's request for protection for Americans in Durango, the state department demanded that the Mexican federal government dispatch troops from Torreon.

Federal troops are now advancing to the relief of Durango, which is in control of rebel troops under General Urbina.

Bandits Execute American.

El Paso, Tex., July 19.—Another American citizen has been held for ransom and then executed by Mexican bandits. The victim was Ben Griffin, a Texan, employed by the Pearson syndicate as a saw filer in the Madera, Chihuahua, mills. Charles Smith, seized with him, escaped and walked to the border with news of the execution.

What Ailed Him.

"I want you to tell me plainly, doctor," said the man with the fat government position, "what is the matter with me."

"Well, sir," answered the old doctor, leaning back in his chair and looking at his beefy, red-faced patient, "you are suffering from underwork and overpay."

In the Eye.

"That man is very much in the public eye."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum; "he is as irritating as a cinder from a locomotive."

LUCKY ACCIDENT FOR MINER

What at First Seemed Adverse Stroke of Fate Turned Out a Caprice of Fortune.

Where hundreds of men are "prospecting" one of them is liable, of course, to stumble upon a ledge that "pans out" in paying gold or silver. That lucky "find" gives birth to a dozen stories about millionaires who have become "rich beyond the dreams of avarice" by some fortunate accident. The following story is such a one.

A miner named Adams was prospecting in a northwestern state. While trudging along, one hot day, through a gulch, where the sun had a good chance at his back, he suddenly smelled smoke. He glanced quickly in every direction to ascertain the origin of the smoke, but seeing nothing resumed his journey. A moment later the smell returned stronger than ever. A light wreath of vapor curled about his ears and gave him to understand that his haversack was on fire. Like all miners, he carried a large lens for the purpose of examining the specimens of the sand in his pan and the truth flashed upon him. For want of room he had hung the glass on the outside and the rays of the sun had been concentrated on his haversack, which was thus set on fire. As among its contents were 12 or 15 pounds of powder he lost no time in dropping the burden.

The haversack fell between two huge stones, out of sight. Adams reached a safe distance and watched the smoke rising from his worldly possessions. Suddenly there was a deafening report. The ground trembled and Adams dodged behind a huge stone. Rising, he went to the spot to gather up what he could find, when his eyes almost started out of his head at seeing the quartz that had been blown up fairly glittering with gold. His powder had done better on its own account than it had ever done on his, and had literally blown open a gold mine for his benefit. He was made a rich man and named his mine the "Nick of Time."

The Child's Toys.

Cloaked under a pretense of making the children happy, our sins have been many. In the first place, we have been giving them too many toys and have made the recipients blasé and unappreciative. One at a time is enough. In our secret souls most of us have been conscious of that mistake. In the second place, in our desire to produce something new and wonderful at frequent intervals, something that would do us credit in the eyes of our young admirers, we have been getting the wrong kinds. The imported mechanical toys upon which we have fallen with gusto and played happily ourselves until obliged to hand them over are far better for us, it seems, than for them. They do the work for the child instead of making him do it.

Here we have in a nutshell the main principle underlying the selection of toys. The child's toys should stimulate his imagination and make him work. If he has too many he has nothing left to imagine; if they respond to the magic of a key, he can only stand by and watch.—Martha Culler, in Harper's Bazar.

WILL H. FIELDS
AT FAMILY THEATRE

THESE ARE YOUR ANCESTORS

When One Considers Their Vast Number Pride of Descent Seems Very Foolish.

Are you proud of your ancestors? Of how many of them?

Since the beginning of the Christian era—a mere 1911 years—you have had 139,235,017,489,534,976 ancestors. Imagine, if you can, how many persons were needed since the beginning of the world to bring you forth—you, who are reading this now. It works the other way, too. If a single couple had started 5,000 years ago to populate the world, and everybody had grown to maturity and married at the age of 21, the earth's population would be 2,199,915, followed by 144 ciphers. However, this world would not hold them all; it would not be large enough. To give all these people breathing space the size of the world would have to be multiplied by 3,166,526, followed by 125 ciphers. That is the only way in which these enormous numbers can be expressed.

How futile, then, is ancestor worship! Every one of us, high or low, has had in his ancestry kings and peasants, criminals and saints; it is almost impossible to name any one of one's own race to whom one cannot prove in some way a remote relationship.

WHICH?

"Don't you think Shakespeare Smith, the poet, has an interestingly mournful expression?"

"Sure! I wonder if it is caused by dyspepsia, due to overeating, or anemia, due to lack of food?"

UNLESS WE START OUT WITH SOME OBJECT IN VIEW, THE END IS LIKELY TO BE DISASTROUS.

Special Election in City of Dixon, Illinois, on the proposition of Approving or Disapproving a certain ordinance of the City of Dixon as hereinafter stated and set forth.

ELECTION JULY 29th, 1913.

Blakes Gross
City Clerk

Shall the City of Dixon adopt an ordinance empowering the Dixon Water Company, a corporation, to operate a system of water works in the City of Dixon, Illinois, passed by the Council of said City on the 26th day of May, A. D. 1913, and approved by the Mayor of said City on the 31st Day, of May, A. D. 1913?

YES

NO

To Escape Gold Bricks.

A man or a woman with funds to invest should make it a primary principle to first consult an experienced banking house of established reputation. The first step in the prudent investment of your money is the selection of your banking house. You should choose a banker not only willing but competent to serve your every need—one with the requisite patience and sympathy to study your investment problem from all angles, to make your problem his problem.

Few investors realize that within the past few years there has sprung up a new guild in the banking business, bankers whose business runs well over $100,000,000 annually and whose success is largely due to the faithful and thoughtful attention given each serious inquiry or request for advice. If you can save and command $100 or more each year you can command the best financial brains in America.—Leslie's.

SEEK FOR AN OLD FORTUNE

German Heirs of Wealth Missing for Centuries Sue Dresden Bank for $17,500,000.

With a view to tracing a huge inheritance lost for centuries, a syndicate has been formed in Cologne and has retained some prominent German lawyers. Several members of the reichstag are connected with the scheme, which is built up around the vanished estate of Baron von Oru-hohn, a field marshal in the Dutch army, who died 234 years ago.

This search has its counterpart in a series of Bavarian mysteries dating still further back, and curiously enough also dealing with Dutch fortunes left to German relatives. In the latter case the descendants of four separate families have joined hands in an effort to acquire the fortunes left to them.

Here are the main facts upon which the various claimants hope to establish their right to the vanished $17,500,000.

In 1636 George Schleder, a German emigrant from the Moselle country, died, leaving about one and three-quarter million dollars to his family.

In 1664 Andreas Joas, Schleder's son-in-law, died, leaving $3,500,000 to relatives in Bavaria. In 1707 Johann Joas, a nephew of Andreas, died, bequeathing nearly a million dollars to the same Bavarian family. A year previously a Spanish governor named via died at Antwerp, leaving five millions to relatives in Bavaria.

Finally Joseph Pongratz, who, like the two Joases and Schleder, lived and died at Amsterdam, left $7,000,000 to descendants at Seehausen, Germany.

These fortunes have gone astray, that they once existed is beyond all doubt. The heirs of Johann Joas are ready to show that an Augsburg lawyer testified to the arrival of the million on May 2, 1785. The hopeful ones in the case of Joas hold a document registering the banking of their ancestor's fortune in an Augsburg house in 1786.

The beneficiaries under the Pongratz will have even received small cash advance from this fortune during the centuries which have elapsed. Once, for instance, a lucky descendant actually succeeded in obtaining a quarter of a million dollars. This was in 1791.

As recently as 1855 an Augsburg banker named Halder confessed on his death bed that he made his fortune out of the missing Pongratz millions—that the money was in fact lying in his safes. The would-be beneficiaries put forth every effort to obtain their due, but in vain.

The Halder business has lately been amalgamated with the bank of Dresden, and the descendants are now suing the latter concern.

AMBOY

Amboy, July 18.—Mr. and Mr. Butler of near Sublette were here today.

A dog and pony show exhibit here Friday.

Mrs. Henry Walters was hostess at the Arbutus club at her home south west of town Thursday afternoon.

Luncheon two courses, was served on the porch by Misses Grace Honeycutt, Ruth Walters, Luella Dewey and Miss Kohl of Chicago, a guest of Miss Honeycutt. The luncheon was nicely served and much enjoyed. Music was enjoyed during the afternoon.

Miss Kohl of Chicago is a guest this week of Miss Grace Honeycutt.

County Treasurer Frank Vaughn was here this week from Dixon for a few days.

Otis M. Eastman, the new superintendent for the Amboy schools, the coming year, was here today.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Noble and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Forrest motored to Chicago today.

TOO MUCH FOR EASTERNEE

Pilgrim Was Looking for Iron Springs,
But That Story Was More Than He Could Stand.

He was a weary, thin and sallow-looking American, who had never been so far west before, and when he struck Carson City he hailed the first native he met.

"Can you tell me, sir, if there are any mineral springs about here?"

"From the east?" asked the westerner.

"Yes."

"Come here for yer health?"

"Yes."

"Tried everything, I suppose?"

"Yes."

"Tried sulphur springs?"

"Yes. Didn't help me a bit."

"Been to Arkansas?"

"Yes, and everywhere else."

"What kind of water are you looking for now?"

"Well, no kind in particular. I was told, though, that I'd find a variety of springs out here."

"Going to locate?"

"That depends."

"Well, stranger I have got just what you want. A vacant lot in the best part of the city. Finest iron springs in the country. Go and see for yourself."

"But how do you know it's iron?" queried the easterner.

"Well, partner, I drove my horse through it and he came out with iron shoes on his feet. And that ain't all. I drove some pigs down there to drink. They turned into pig iron, and I sold them to the iron foundry. Just what you want. For sale, cheap. Why, halloo! What's the matter?"

The weary easterner had turned abruptly and was walking off up the road.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Why England Believes in a King.

The great majority of Englishmen of all grades and opinions do undoubtedly believe in a king, and think they have some fairly good reasons for doing so.

The great reason, of course, is that on the whole the system works, or seems to work, fairly well. It is very costly. Everything included, it probably costs ten times as much as the average man thinks; and if a rate were levied for the purpose on him, he might feel it and begin to grumble. But the money is derived from the duchies, or voted from the taxes, and nobody feels the pinch or even knows the difference. It is a rallying point for all kinds of senseless anachronisms and abuses. But in an old country many things have a better chance of continuing existence by being old than by being good, and an abuse comes to be esteemed almost when its hairs are gray and its years many. It promotes snobbery and creates snobs, though it will not be supposed to be unpopular on that account.—The Congregationalist.

To Save Alcott Home.

Efforts are being made to inaugurate a movement for the preservation of the old Alcott homestead in Concord, Mass., where Bronson Alcott lived and died and where Louisa Alcott created the immortal children that run through the pages of "Little Men" and "Little Women." The place at present is fast falling into hopeless decay and action must be started soon if it is to be preserved at all. "Perhaps if Miss Alcott had been dead two centuries instead of only about 30 years her former home would not be in such a dangerous plight as it is today," said a New York woman who is trying to interest others in its preservation. "But by and by Miss Alcott will have been dead 200 years and if Orchard house is not saved now American soil in future generations will be the poorer for our neglect. We never shall raise a harvest of ancient associations for our land unless we take care of the associations while they still are comparatively modern."

Rank Materialists.

In their outlook on life most Chinese are rank materialists, says a writer in the Century. They ply the stranger with questions as to his income, his means, the cost of his belongings. They cannily offer paper money instead of real money at the graves of their dead, and sacrifice paper images of the valuables that once were burned in the funeral pyre.

Yet no one who comes into close touch with the Chinese deems this utilitarianism a race trait. They are, in fact, capable of the highest idealism. Among the few who have come near to the thought of Buddha or Jesus one finds faces saintlike in their depth of spirituality. The materialism is imposed by hard economic conditions. It is the product of an age long anxiety about tomorrow's rice and is not to be counteracted by the influence of the petty lift them above sordid anxieties.

SEEK MISSING GIRL IN LAKE

Miss Laura E. Voss of Kenosha Pins Note to Pillow; Vanishes.

Kenosha, Wis., July 17.—Dependent on account of troubles in her home at Lake Geneva, pretty Laura Estella Voss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Voss, well-known society people of Lake Geneva, is thought to have thrown herself into the lake off the Wisconsin street breakwater here. Two barefoot prints, which are alleged to have been those of the despondent girl, and a penciled note on a piece of an envelope are the only clues that the police have to aid them to solve the disappearance of the young woman.

TANGIER "HOLYMAN"

HAD LEARNED THE METHODS OF BARNUM AND BAILEY.

American Experience Aided Charlatan
In Gaining the Reverence and Small Coin of His Fellow Believers.

"There is hardly anything more enjoyable than to find an unexpected bit of the west in places thousands of miles and hundreds of years from the United States," said a New York man, according to the Sun of that city.

"My wife and I went to Tangier from Gibraltar. The day after our arrival we paid an early visit to the market. Suddenly, as we stood looking on, there was a commotion in the crowd, which parted right and left. I could hear the clash of cymbals, but was amazed to see men bowing almost to the ground as they made way.

In the lane thus created appeared a tall man wearing a long robe of many colors and a necklace of charms. He kept his eyes turned heavenward as he walked, keeping up a clashing with a pair of cymbals as he proceeded. At his girdle was a gourd into which some of the multitude tossed copper coins. My courier told me that he was a dervish, a holy man from the Sudan.

"I thought the dervish would make a good subject for my camera, but the courier said he doubted whether it could be arranged, as all good Musselmans had religious scruples against being photographed. I insisted, and the courier said he would do his best.

"So we followed along after the dervish, through a little side street into a broader one, and having turned the corner the courier approached the dervish and exchanged a few words with him. The holy man looked to see whether any Mohammedans were looking on, and there being none in sight he nodded in a dignified manner. He posed while my wife and I took several good snapshots of him.

"I went up to give him a small token of thanks and was surprised when, after looking at me a moment, he said: 'English?'

"'No,' I replied, 'American.'"

"Ah! American!" he cried. "Me America," he continued, pointing toward himself. "New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, St. Louis. Six months Barnum & Bailey." He smiled all over as he took what I offered him, then bowing in a dignified fashion he went off, casting his eyes toward the sky and clanking his cymbals as he went.

"The next morning we went to the market again. Suddenly again we heard the cymbals clashing, and saw the crowd part, and almost prostrate itself, and in a second our dervish friend of the day before appeared again, his eyes piously cast toward heaven.

"We were sitting on our donkeys and watching him in some curiosity as he neared us. Just as he got opposite he turned his head in our direction. He caught my eye and the lid of his left eye closed in one long, eloquent wink."

A Dry Occasion.

Brook, Ind., where George Ade practices gentleman farming, is right in the middle of the teetotal belt of Indiana.

Last summer, one broiling hot day, a man came along in an automobile, having just patched up a puncture outside of Brook.

He ran into the little village and saw a native standing in front of the general store. He stopped his machine and went up to the native.

"Say, brother," he said, "will you tell me where I can get a good, cold bottle of beer around here?"

The native took the automobile by the arm out to the middle of the road, pointed down its dusty length, and said: "The nearest place is 50 miles right down that road."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

OLD-FASHIONED SWEET HERBS

Lavender, Thyme, Rosemary and Others That Give Forth Odors Both Fresh and Invigorating.

I spent most of my school-day holidays at my grandmother's place, in Yorkshire, England, where many of the customs of Queen Anne's time remain unchanged. So to me lavender and herbs seemed indispensable in a self-respecting household, and, as soon as I owned a garden, they were installed.

At grandmother's sheer muslin bags, filled with lavender, thyme and rosemary, were kept in every cupboard, bureau drawer and chest. Large jars, filled with rose leaves and mignonette, all the herbs and many spices, were stowed in the sitting rooms and halls. The lids were removed for about half an hour each day, after sweeping and dusting were done, so that a faint, indescribable perfume permeated the whole house, and was most delightful.

Even physicians agree that sweet odors are beneficial and valuable as disinfectants. Those who have never experienced the delight of sleeping between sheets redolent of sweet herbs have before them a joy that will not soon be forgotten. Punk sticks and pastilles have a positive odor, pleasing for a time, but it becomes tiresome; herbal odors are fresh and invigorating.—Kate V. St. Maur, in the Woman's Home Companion.

One of Sir Evelyn Wood's Stories.

Some forty years ago at Aldershot the camp was commanded by Sir James Yorke Scarlett, a Crimean veteran. On the occasion in question he was directing some sham fighting. In a manner then usual he was leading a line of skirmishers of one force against another, many yards in front, as in earlier times he had led the Heavy Brigade at Balaklava against three times its numbers. To a soldier of the younger school it seemed a preposterous proceeding, and Sir Evelyn ventured to criticize it.

Sir James replied: "Young man, have I not ordered you twice to hold your tongue? If I like to lead my skirmishers, what the hell is that to you?" Sir Evelyn replied: "Ten thousand pardons, sir, but it is the enemy's line in retreat you have been leading for the last ten minutes." He was short-sighted and did not wear glasses, so was unable to see the distinguishing mark, a sprig of heather worn in the shakos of the troops he was attacking.—Westminster Gazette.

The Legion of Honor.

After the vote for adding a second ten years to the duration of Bonaparte's consulship he created, May 19, the order of the Legion of Honor. This institution was soon followed by that of the new nobility. Thus, in a short space of time, the Concordat to tranquillize consciences and re-establish harmony in the church, the decree to recall the emigrants, the continuance of the consular power for ten years, by way of preparation for the consulship for life, and the possession of the empire, and the creation, in a country which had abolished all distinctions, of an order which was to engender prodigies, following closely on the heels of each other. The Bourbons, in reviving the abolished orders, were wise enough to preserve along with them the Legion of Honor.—Memoirs of Napoleon Bonaparte-Burienne.

Wife's Place in Japan.

One of the proverbial Japanese expressions characterizing the island empire is that it is "the land where the day would not dawn without the tender sex." This is a plain admission of woman's mighty influence, and refers indirectly to a mythological story of the sun goddess from whom the imperial family is supposed to have sprung. In Japan in early times the wife seems to have had her full share of the respect of the husband. Instead of "taking her to wife" the earliest Japanese word for marriage means "the union of the man and woman." The woman, after her marriage, continued to live with her parents and her husband visited her daily. As soon as his means permitted he built a new house and the wife came to live in it with him. Even to this day the word shinzo, "newly built," means wife; that is, the woman who occupies the domestic, especially erected for her comfort. In the civil ceremony of marriage, in which the sipping of rice wine is the prominent feature, the bride drinks first, the cup then being passed to the bridegroom.—Oriental Review.

NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

Mankind and the World Frequently Disappointing to Hopeful Youth, Says Theodore Parker.

I suppose many of us are a little disappointed with mankind. The world of the girl's dream is not the world of the young woman's actual sight and touch, and still less is it so of the woman no longer young. In the moonlight of dreamy youth, as we look out of the windows and rejoice in the blooming apple trees, how different does the world seem from what we find it the next day, when in the heat of a May sun, we go about and remove the caterpillars from the scrubby trees. A boy bred in a wealthy family in a little village, secluded from the eyes of men, filling his consciousness with nature and the reflection of human life which deep poems and this great magnificent Bible and other religious books mirror down into his own soul, goes out into the world, and finds things very different from what they appeared when seen through the windows of the home which his father's and mother's affection colored with the rose and violet of their own nature.—Theodore Parker.

Remorse. An agent in a flourishing western town writes as follows regarding pangs of conscience experienced by a former loss claimant. The claimant's method of easing his mind is unique and possesses the advantage of economy. The letter is as follows: "We had a call this day from the Rev. _____, formerly of this city, who had a loss with you in 1892. He wanted to know the amount paid him on the loss, which he thinks was only a paint damage of from $12 to $14. He now concludes that it might not have been right for him to have accepted the money for the painting, as he says the building really needed painting at the time. He would now like to have the payment which was made him considered a donation from you."

Drastic Reminder. Women usually find ways of having things done when they want others to do them, and a North side woman seems to take the prize, if the tale of the husband can be believed. Recently the wife gave him a sealed letter, with instructions not to open it until he reached his office. He did as directed. "I am obliged to tell you something that will pain you," the letter read. "There is, however, no help for it. You shall know all. I have felt for some time that it must come to this. I can remain silent no longer. "You must bear part of this trouble yourself, and do not overwhelm me with reproach."

The husband's face was ghastly, and cold perspiration stood out on his brow. He was prepared for the worst. Trembling, he read on: "I have asked you to order a load of coal. Maybe you will not forget it this time."

The coal was delivered that afternoon.—Pittsburg Gazette Times.

Blindness of Justice. Rastus was on trial, charged with stealing $7.85. He pleaded not guilty, and, as he was unable to hire an attorney, the judge appointed Lawyer Clearman as counsel. Clearman put up a strong plea in defense, and Rastus was acquitted.

Counsel and client met a few minutes later outside the courtroom. "Now, Rastus," said Clearman, "you know the court allows the counsel very little for defending this kind of case. I worked hard for you and got you clear. I'm entitled to much more pay than I'm getting for my valuable services, and you should dig up a good-sized fee. Have you got any money?"

"Yes, boss," replied Rastus. "I still done got dat seven dollars and eighty-five cents."

Receipts today—Hogs—9000. Cattle—300. Sheep—8900. Hogs at noon were 5 to 10c lower. Estimated Monday—45,000.

SENATE IS ASSAILED

BRISTOW ATTACKS BODY AS BRYAN RESOLUTION FAILS.

Despite Defeat Kansas Continues Harsh Criticism of the Secretary of State.

Washington, July 19.—Secretary Bryan's policy of lecturing in his vacation time involved the senate in a bitter controversy. It began when Senator Bristow, ignoring the defeat of his resolution directed at Mr. Bryan's action, insisted upon being heard in severe criticism of the cabinet officer.

Before the debate ended charges and counter-charges between senators on the two sides of the chamber had brought the senate to a high pitch of excitement. Senator Ashurst produced an old letter of Senator Bristow's, which he declared indicated that Mr. Bristow in 1906 had been perfectly willing to take a federal position and devote only part of his time to it.

Senator Bristow retorted with the charge that Senator Ashurst had spent over $100 of public funds sending telegrams that should have been paid for from his own pocket, a charge denied by Senator Ashurst, but which Senator Bristow agreed to prove by producing original telegrams that had been paid for out of senate funds.

From these personal accusations the debate went into the general field of public lecturing and writing and Democratic senators called attention to the Chautauqua platform work of Senator Bristow and many others, and to the newspaper writing that Senator Bristow had done during the last Baltimore convention. The Kansas senator emphatically declared that he had never neglected the duties of his office.

"I am not on trial here," he said. "I simply want to show that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones," said Senator James.

Senators Bristow, Townsend, Fall and others attacked in strong language the action of Secretary Bryan in delivering paid lectures during a time when they claimed public questions required his close attention to the affairs of the state department.

Held for Murder of Daughter. Salt Lake City, July 19.—At the conclusion of her hearing the city court here, Mrs. Augustus Ekman was formally charged with first degree murder and held without bail. Salt Lake and Ogden policemen related her confession of how she killed her twelve-year-old daughter, Frances, and took her body in a trunk to Ogden.

WHAT HIS EDUCATION COST

Jones Has Tried Various Things, Including Matrimony, and Has Not Yet Done Paying.

"How much did it cost you to get your education?" asked Jones.

"Well," said Smith, "let's see. My primary education was cheap—say, $500. My secondary training was about twice as much, while my college course amounted to something like a thousand a year, or four thousand in all. Then I had three years at a technical school, at about the same rate—so, all in all, my education came to about $8,500, or $9,000 at the outside. What do you figure yours cost?"

"Well," replied Jones, reflectively. "I guess mine was rather more expensive. I went through college, but I didn't have any technical training. Up to that point we are about equal. Then I went west and got interested in a gold mine. That bit of knowledge cost considerable. Next, I tried stock-raising, and found that a pretty expensive school. Before I was finally graduated from that I took a hand at the theatrical business, and learned a lot at fairly high rates. There was a little girl in the company, though, seemed to think I hadn't got all the knowledge that was coming to me, so she put me in the matrimonial school. Not having graduated from that yet, I can't give any final figures, but I can tell you this: the higher up you get the more it costs. After a while the kids came along, and they taught me a whole heap, but the bills were high. For twenty years or so I worried along on this kind of schooling, and then my eldest girl got married. Her husband thought he'd like to try farming, and I learned a lot about that in the

"Who Wants to Cook in Hot Weather, Anyway?"

"There's something you can make for Rob and the children, even if you can't cook. Who wants to cook in hot weather anyway? Jell-O doesn't have to be cooked. Isn't it lovely?"

JELL-O.

deserts are not only easy to make and "lovely" but they are the finest of summer dishes.

In hot weather you find your appetite craves something different—something pleasantly tangy or tart—something that will taste good and "hit the spot."

Fruit itself does not satisfy that peculiar craving as cool, sparkling, delicious, fruity Jell-O does

Seven flavors of Jell-O: Strawberry, Raspberry, Lemon, Orange, Cherry, Peach, Chocolate.
